There was no semblance of invisible government. You cannot find a man in New York state who would stand up and honestly say that during my term there was a suggestion of any secret or improper influence with respect to executive action at all times.

"At the same time we had legislation dealing with the great subject of the regulation of the public utilities. There were men who did not at that time see the importance of that action. We thought that it was time to vindicate the supremacy of the public interest. We did not buy our way through the legislature; we did not compromise with principle. We went straight to the people of the state and the people sustained our policies and they were enacted into law.

As it is now in the prayer book, the morning prayer asks for the President the boon, "in health and prosperity long to live," and that he finally may attain everlasting joy and felicity. The new prayer, as adopted for both services, while asking that the President "and all others in authority" be given "the wisdom and strength to know and to do Thy will," makes no reference to long life, health, prosperity or eternal felicity.

The house also voted, despite vigorous protests, to omit the words "the governor of this state" from the evening prayer, it being argued "that all others in authority" included the governors.

D. C. TROOPS SHIVERING IN CAMP UPON BORDER

Prove They Are "Terriers" and Not White House "Pets," as Believed.

BY J. CROSBY McCARTHY,

CAMP WILSON, SAN ANTONIO, Tex. October 18.-The tail end of the guli storm which swept over this section late yesterday reduced temperature greatly last night for the first time since arriving here. Sentries stood guard with blankets wrapped about them. Everybody wears sweaters this morning. Mud, which has prevented drills since arrival, is still bad, but drills probably will be resumed to day.

District troops are demonstrating to other soldiers here that instead of being White House "pets" they are "terriers." A cavalryman of the regular army attempted to pass through a line guarded by Private John C. Bishop of Company H early this morning, and when halted attempted to assault him. Finding he had met more than his match the regular broke away and ran down the company street. Cook Charles Kershenbaum of Company H caught him. When the cavalryman was returned to his company under arrest later in the day several of his teeth were missing and he bore other scars of conflict. He will be court-martialed. Bishop was treated at infirmary for cut on hand was treated at infirmary for cut on hand received in the conflict.

D. C. FIELD HOSPITAL UNIT LEAVES BORDER FOR HOME

Organization of Guardsmen Is Sched uled to Arrive in Washington Saturday Night.

This organization was ordered home several weeks ago and has been packed up for some days. However, there is diffifor some days. However, there is diffi-culty on the border in getting railroad equipment to transport the men home. The organization is traveling in a train of nine cars, and is going to Washington via New Orleans, La.; Montgomery, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga. A day's stop at El Paso, Tex., was on the schedule for to-day. There the organization will receive its uniforms and overcoats, which did not arrive at Douglas before the command left.

This is the second District organization leave the border for Washington This is the second District organization to leave the border for Washington. As soon as the Field Hospital arrives at Camp Ordway, Fort Myer, it will camp for about a week, pending the perfection of details for mustering out.

GODLY HOMES GREAT NEED OF AMERICA, SAYS RECTOR Rev. L. N. Caley Speaks at Annual

Convention of Episcopal Sunday School Institute. Godly homes are the great need of America, and these may be brought about through the proper use of the Sunday school, according to Rev. Llewellyn N. Caley, rector of the Church of St. Jude and the Nativity, Philadelphia, in an address before the twentieth annual convention of the Sunday School Institute of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington this morning. The convention being held today at the Church of the Epiphany closes tonight at 8 o'clock with a public meeting for parents and teachers. Dr. Caley spoke at the public meet ing in the parish hall following holy communion in the church.

"Bigness isn't greatness; having 100, 000,000 people doesn't make a great righteousness makes a great nation; nation." the speaker said. Pointing to the creation of character, the Christlike character, as the supreme purpose of the church, Dr. Caley said the chief place for the building of such character by proper instruction is in the Sunday school, and said that the Sunday schools are not for children alone, but for men and women as well throughout their lives.

The best way to make the Sunday schools strong, he said, is through teacher training.

schools strong, he said, is through teacher training.

Canon De Vries is presiding over all the sessions of the convention.

At general conference this afternoon "How to Bridge the Gap Between the Church and Sunday School" was discussed by Canon Austin, Rev. J. Henning Nelms and Commander C. T. Jewell, U. S. N. Departmental conferences are to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. At 5 o'clock there is to be a Sunday school exhibit under the direction of Rev. H. W. Stowell. "The Danger of a Godless Education" will be the theme of an address by Rev. Beverley D. Tucker, jr., of the University of Virginia, at the public meeting tonight. Canon De Vries was re-elected vice president, Canon Austin second vice president, Canon Austin second vice president, and Eugene E. Thompson treasurer and secretary of the institute, at the business meeting. The Bishop of Washington is the permanent president.

With the foregoing statement as a shibboleth, Barry Bulkley made the prediction today that the election of the republican national ticket next month is a foregone conclusion. Mr. Bulkley recently was the speechmaking companion of Gov. Charles S. Whitman on a stumping tour from the New York-Canadian border to Buffalo, and York-Canadian border to Buffalo, and thence to Chicago, Lansing, Mich.; South Bend, Ind., and other cities. He left here this afternoon for New York to fill speechmaking engagements in that state. He will rejoin Gov. Whitman next week and will continue his campaign tour up to the date of election.

Interested in Tariff.

"I found that there was the greatest interest in the protective tariff said, "and that farmers and the business men are infinitely more concerned going to happen after the great European war is over than they are in the democratic theory that he kept us out of the war.' The people realize that no foreign government has sought a quarrel with us since the European condict opened, and that none of the powers would be silly enough to invite one now."

now."
Referring to conditions in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, Mr. Bulkley said:
"I found conditions in those states somewhat similar to those prevailing in New York. It is my conviction Mr. Hughes will carry them all.

some democrats that the progressives in various sections are lukewarm in their support of the republican national ticket. I found them ticket. I found them generally bat-tling with earnestness and vigor for the election of Mr. Hughes. As to the Whitman administration in New York. it is too strongly intrenched in public opinion to be affected by a few disgruntled soreheads in the progressive ranks who are making a big noise for Seabury, the democratic gubernatorial candidate. The outlook is that the Whitman forces will snow him under."

Still Fighting Boll Weevil.

Secretary Houston has explained in letter to a southern farm journal that agricultural experts are still working diligently but without definite results so far to develop means of eradicating the cotton boll weevil. It is believed that reports have been circulated that the department had made the discovery.
